

The background of the image shows the interior of a church. At the top, there are two small, arched stained glass windows. Below them is a larger, rectangular stained glass window. On the right side, there is a tall, narrow stained glass window. The bottom of the image shows the dark wooden pews of a church, with a central aisle leading towards a pulpit and an altar area. The lighting is dim, highlighting the colors of the stained glass.

All Saints Day

All Saints Day is celebrated on November 1st. All Saints Day is a celebration of the communion of saints, who are those people Christians believe are in heaven, through good works and God's grace. All Saints Day is a day that Catholics offer prayers to those in purgatory and a reminder to people that we are called to live as saints.

Presented by CORE Commission 2022

Source: Catholic Online