Hello Deanna,

In my opinion, the presence of those three board members in one place for the meeting would mean that members of the public should be allowed to attend and observe even if the meeting had been billed as a virtual meeting. You also left me a voicemail asking about the location of the meeting. It wouldn't matter what room the board members used, it should still be open to the public.

Tom

Dear Tom,

The Colchester Board of Finance (BOF) meetings were in-person meetings held at Colchester town hall since the new Administration took over. Around the end of June the BOF switched to Zoom meetings.

Since the switch to Zoom format there have been several Zoom BOF meetings. At several of these Zoom meetings BOF members are physically present in Colchester Town Hall but still conducting the meetings via Zoom.

The last meeting 8/10/22 there were three (3) BOF members in the town hall meeting room where in-person meetings are held.

Does the fact that 3 BOF members are physically present conducting meetings at town hall, allow for the public the right to attend these meetings in-person, should they so choose.

Can you please elaborate on this issue.

Thank you,

Deanna Bouchard
